Tax on Diesel Motor Fuel. Includes instructions for supporting schedules (Forms PT-102.1 through PT-102.4)

PT-102-1

(10/06)

General information

If you are an exempt organization that has established its status as an exempt organization under section 1116(a) of the Tax Law, and any motor fuel, diesel motor fuel or residual petroleum product that you import into New York State is consumed exclusively by you, then you are not subject to the Article 13-A tax on petroleum products. Do not include any petroleum business tax in the amounts on Form PT-102 (see instructions on Form PT-100).

Diesel motor fuel is composed of two general subcategories of product, unenanced diesel product and enhanced diesel product.

The specific fuels making up the unenanced diesel product category include fuel oil, kero-jet fuel, and kerosene and water-white kerosene (K-1). This category does not include industry-standard No. 4 diesel fuel.

The specific fuels making up the enhanced diesel product category include diesel fuel, No. 1 diesel fuel, enhanced No. 2 fuel oil (the blended product that results from mixing No. 2 fuel oil with kerosene or a cetane improver to make the fuel oil more suitable to operate in a motor vehicle diesel engine) and any product designated as diesel motor fuel.

B20 means a mixture consisting by volume of 20% biodiesel, and the remainder of which is diesel motor fuel.

Biodiesel means a diesel motor fuel substitute produced from nonpetroleum renewable resources that meets the registration requirements for fuels and fuel additives established by the Environmental Protection Agency under section 211 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7545), and that meets the American Society for Testing and Materials D6751-02a Standard Specification for Biodiesel Fuel (B100) Blend Stock Distillate Fuels.

You may reproduce (e.g., computer-generate) Forms PT-102.1 through PT-102.4 provided each form is clearly identified and contains all of the information (including form number, distributor's name, FEIN, etc.) requested on the original form, and the information is in the same format.
